The General Assembly,

Concerned by the many wars and incessant conflicts which ruin our economies striving to grow, and which ravage our world and our landscapes, by the deaths, arrests and suffering that these battles inflict on our peoples,

Watching the European Union promising and giving billions of euros to Ukraine, the Western world is developing a previously non-existent pity for the war between Ukraine and Russia, while other nations, oppressed by many attackers, have been asking for any help for years without ever having received any help response from Westerners,

Shocked by this injustice that we deplore when we see these cheques of several hundred million euros circulating between the Occident and Ukraine, to see such proof of inequality in this world, by this Western selfishness that makes him act only when he feels impacted,

Deploring the many lives lost in armed conflicts in the Middle East and Africa, which are counted as vulgar statistics, while every Ukrainian soldier lost is a tragedy in itself,

Decides to set up an ethics commission to monitor the military, monetary and material donations of member nations;

- The production of a survey of all activities of member countries carried out annually in order to analyze and possibly correct their activities;
- the publication of a public release on all these data.
